Icebreaker

Have you identified many things in common? Which ones? How important is to do it?

If we did this activity with you and other professionals in your school, could it be useful? What is the advantage of having good relationships with the people we are working with?

Has your first impression of some people in the group been confirmed? What impressions have been confirmed and which have not? How do first impressions or prejudices/stereotypes affect the way we relate to others?

Differences between Work Group and Work Team

Work Group vs. Work Team

Work Group

---

“Set of people composed of one or more persons in charge and their direct collaborators, framed in an organizational structure, which assumes some functions or objectives, and performs a series of tasks oriented to the fulfillment of these objectives”.

Work Group vs. Work Team

Team Work

---

“Any cohesive work group, composed of people with complementary skills and knowledge, committed to a common purpose, objectives and approach, for what they feel mutually responsible”.

Work Group vs. Work Team

Group Work

- They have not necessarily the same goal.

---

- They can be homo/ heterogeneous in respect of their abilities.

---

- They may or not collaborate with the task.

---

Team Work

- They develop commitment to the same goal.

---

- It is small and it incorporates skills and abilities that its complement each other.

---

- They collaborate with each other.

---

Work Group vs. Work Team

Group Work

- Sometimes they meet their own needs instead of the group's.

---

- Responsibility is primarily individual.

---

- Synergy is neutral (or negative).

---

Team Work

- They provide the needs of the group first and then the personal needs.

---

- Responsibility is collective.

---

- Synergy is positive.

---

Phases of development of a group

- 1. How does the performance of a team work develop over time?
- 2. What are the phases through which a group passes to be a team?

What is the typical development of a Team Work?

The model Forming – Storming – Norming – Performing (1965) describes the typical evolution of a group in a team.

A group is transformed into a team by necessarily going through these phases and developing important skills for the success of the team.

RolePlaying: Communication styles

To build the character you can think about:

- How does that person act?
- What does he/she say?
- How does he/she move?
- What gestures, words, verbs, expressions does he/she use most often?
- What body language does he/she usually assume?

Communication Styles

Understanding Your Communication Style

Good communication skills require a high level of self-awareness.

Understanding your personal style of communicating help you to create good and lasting impressions on others.

By becoming more aware of how others perceive you, you can adapt more readily to their styles of communicating.

Instead, you can make another person more comfortable with you by selecting and emphasizing certain behaviors that fit within your personality and resonate with another.

There are 3 basic communication styles

PASSIVE

You put the rights of others before your own, minimizing your own self worth.

---

AGGRESSIVE

You stand up for your rights but violate the rights of others.

---

ASSERTIVE

You stand up for your rights while maintaining respect for the rights of others.

Elements of basic communication styles

Characteristics

PASSIVE

- Indirect
- Always agrees
- Doesn't speak up
- Hesitant

AGGRESSIVE

- Achieves goals, often at others' expense
- Domineering, bullying
- Patronizing superiority, sarcastic

ASSERTIVE

- Non-judgmental
- Observes behavior rather than labeling it
- Trusts self and others
- Self-aware
- Open, flexible, versatile
- Playful, sense of humor
- Proactive, initiating

Elements of basic communication styles

Confrontation and Problem Solving

PASSIVE

- Avoids, ignores, leaves, postpones
- Agrees externally, while disagreeing internally
- Expend energy to avoid conflicts that are anxiety provoking
- Spends too much time asking for advice, supervision
- Agrees too often

AGGRESSIVE

- Must win arguments, threatens, attacks
- Operates from win/lose position

ASSERTIVE

- Negotiates, compromises
- Confronts problems at the time they happen
- Doesn't let negative feelings build up

Elements of basic communication styles

Effects

PASSIVE

- Gives up being him or herself
- Builds dependency relationships
- Doesn't know where he or she stands
- Slowly loses self esteem
- Promotes others' causes

AGGRESSIVE

- Provokes alienation from others, ill health
- Wastes time and energy oversupervising others
- Pays high price in human relationships
- Fosters resistance, defiance, sabotaging, forming alliances, lying, etc.

ASSERTIVE

- Increased self-esteem and self-confidence
- Increased self-esteem of others
- Feels motivated and understood
- Others know where they stand

Understanding Your Communication Style

Clearly, the assertive style is the one to strive for. Keep in mind that very few people are all one or another style. In fact, the passiveness and aggressiveness are essential at certain times such as:

PASSIVE

- when an issue is minor;
- when the problems caused by the conflict are greater than the conflict itself;
- when emotions are running high and it makes sense to take a break in order to regain perspective;
- when your power is much lower than the other part.

AGGRESSIVE

- when a decision has to be made quickly;
- during emergencies;
- when you know you're right and that fact is crucial;
- stimulating creativity by designing competitions destined for use in training or to increase productivity.
